Tintin's in tree trouble

CARTOON character Tintin has found himself in some tight spots all over the world but never in Milton Keynes – until now. Matthew Parish who plays the fearless young reporter in Herge's Adventures of Tintin at MK Theatre from Tuesday, showed real courage when he got to grips with the Aerial Extreme course at Willen Lake yesterday.

Cops' spy in the sky

BY ROB GIBSON

rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

POLICE have launched its latest weapon against crime – microlights.

The new force 'flying squad' will take to the skies over Milton Keynes on the look-out for illegal activity.

Volunteer pilots from the charity Sky Watch will fly over villages and estates trying to spot criminal damage later this month as part of the latest phase of the forces Operation Rebound.

Operation Rebound was launched last autumn as part of the Safer Streets initiative in an effort to rid the city of vandalism and anti-social behaviour.

The Sky Watch Auxiliary Air Service is the largest voluntary air observation and search service in Europe. It was formed to utilise the observational powers of private aircraft, which can fly lower than airline traffic.

Now pilots will help police officers and council wardens to carry out specific patrols, targeting areas where there is a problem.

Those who spot any suspicious activity will radio the 'watch office' at Milton Keynes Police Station so that ground patrols can be sent to investigate.

As Guy Fawkes Night approaches, pilots on Operation Rebound will seek out anyone who is illegally gathering wood on council property.

Described by some as 'neighbourhood watch people in planes', Sky Watch pilots have been using microlights, VLAs (very light aircraft) and small planes to help emergency services across the city.

Two seater microlights can be airborne for up to four hours and can travel at speeds of 60mph.

Lewis White is a former Milton Keynes Police sergeant and has been flying over the city in his microlight for three years.

He is chief pilot of the Oxfordshire and Buckinghamshire unit of Sky Watch.

Mr White, 47, said: "Milton Keynes Police will tell us to keep an eye on a certain villages. We try and do our bit to help the community. We can cover the sky and if we see anything suspicious we will phone it straight in."

He flies from an airstrip in Buckingham and is part of a team of eight pilots, whose motto is 'Observe and Report'.

He said: "We leave it to the professionals to deal with the criminals but we're in a great position to observe and help out.

"A few weeks ago I spotted a microlight that had to make a forced landing in a field. We radioed it straight in and the police went to make sure the pilot was ok.

"It might be your child that's missing so it's nice to know we can be up there looking for them."

The team reports incidents via local air traffic control at Cranfield Airport.

Mr White added: "We are also in touch with Farm Watch and Horse Watch to keep an eye out for things like stolen horse boxes, which we can help to locate.

"There's a lot of water in Milton Keynes and we can look out for anybody using the canals and lakes who may be in trouble."

Film makers: Graham Thorburn and Andy Neville in Sepentine Court on the Lakes Estate

Lakes: The Movie

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

A FILM about life on the Lakes Estate has been premiered.

The £10,000 budget movie was made by former drug addict Andy Neville and reformed-alcoholic GrahamThorburn.

The film, called Paradise Lost, takes a positive look at the estate, which is seen as one of the most deprived areas of the city.

It was funded by MK College's Routes2Success programme aimed at helping residents of selected estates to learn new skills.

Professional filmmakers from the city's community development group Living Archive hosted the course.

Tutors helped students write, produce and edit the film over a twelve-week period.

Reformed alcoholic Mr Thorburn, 56, was a senior producer with the BBC at one time. He lost his wife to cancer last year and admits he 'went off the rails' before seeking professional help for his addiction.

The Beanhill resident said: "Like many people I thought the Lakes Estate had a bad reputation, but my expectations were not met at all. It has a fantastic community spirit and some great areas of beauty like the Blue Lagoon.

"There can be a lot of stigma attached to certain estates in Milton Keynes because it's felt they were badly designed, however much of the criticism is unfounded."

The film is being screened at the Spotlight on Bletchley Community Partnership office on Serpentine Court. There are special screenings for the public.

Mr Neville, 33, of Hodge Lea, said: "Even though I made the movie I am totally impressed with it. It's amazing what you can do if you have the resources.

"I used to live on the Lakes and it's an area close to my heart. I loved taking part in the whole project, it was fantastic and I gained so much from it."

Kaye Mortimer of Routes2Success said: "These courses provide a great opportunity for people to learn new skills.

"Many people who take part have been out of work for a long period of time so it also helps provide them with the confidence to return to the workplace. The students were totally committed to the project and the end results are very impressive."

Forum for us say tenants

FURIOUS council tenants claim they have seen leaked documents that prove the council has misled them over a decision to disband its housing forum.

Tenants were told at a public meeting on July 5 that the council needed the next four of the ten annual Milton Keynes Council Housing Forums for consultation meetings on tenant participation.

But instead a document seen by this newspaper shows that a month earlier officers had made the decision to suspend the forum and potentially close down the Tenants Resource Centre in Netherfield if necessary.

An issue on tenant participation arose following an Audit Commission report which highlighted 'poor working relations' between the council and the forum.

And on June 14, in a shock move for tenant representatives, the council refused to accept the forum's constitution for the first time since it was set up in the 1990s.

The council is drawing up a new resident involvement scheme that will see changes to the forum – the recognised consulting body on all tenant-related matters for the council's 11,000 houses.

Netherfield tenant representative and chairman of the MKC Housing Forum, Eamon Bobey, said: "They (Milton keynes Council) have never actually even admitted that they've suspended the forum.

Ways and means: Housing forum chairman Eamonn Bobey

"Nobody objects to change for the better, but there are ways and means of doing it. What's happened is they've become dictorial.

"It's about both what they're doing and the process in which they're doing it.

"Since the council has refused us our housing forum meetings, they have put out for consultation a new housing allocations policy, changes to the tenancy agreement, gardening services, changes to housing offices or closure, and tenant involvement – all of which would have been discussed at our meetings where we could have raised any concerns."

Many tenant representatives boycotted a consultation meeting at the council offices last week.

Margaret Burke, vice chairman of the forum, said: "They deny that they are disbanding the forum but what they are doing is making it so different that they might as well be. They wanted us to have this meeting so they could say they went to the forum with their plans. So we boycotted it.

"They won't let us have our meetings, we won't be a tickbox."

The council intends to implement its new plans by November 26.

But Mr Bobey and Mrs Burke are calling for any plans to be put on hold.

A spokesman for the council said: "We have been trying to work very closely with tenants and the housing forum throughout and have done a lot of consultation, which has had a good response and some very useful and positive responses.

"The meetings were overtaken by the need to discuss the major topic of the future of the housing forum.

"We did offer a special meeting to the forum to discuss this but they were unable to attend.

"It is clear that there needs to be major change. But even now we are still open to suggestions and still consulting.

"We have a meeting scheduled with the forum again on October 18, and the matter is due to be decided by the cabinet on November 6."

Facebook contact lands ex in prison

Not-so-friendlyFacebook: Dylan Osborn contacted his wife

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

A HUSBAND was jailed after an Internet site he logged on to sent a message to his wife he was not supposed to contact.

City magistrates ruled that Dylan Osborn, 37, of Silver Street, Newport Pagnell, used the social networking website, Facebook, to breach a county court injunction which ordered him not to make contact with her.

The Internet site allows members to send messages to friends and share photos.

Mr Osborn registered on Facebook on August 16 so that he could see a friend's wedding photos.

When users enter their details Facebook automatically detects their e-mail contacts and sends each one a friend invite.

Mr Osborn said he was unaware his wife would receive a friend request.

When she saw it the following day, she contacted the police and they arrested Mr Osborn that evening for trying to make contact with her.

Mr Osborn split from his wife three years ago. They have an eight-year-old daughter. He said: "I wasn't even aware that she had a Facebook account. I wish I hadn't done it now, this whole thing is crazy.

"I went to prison for an automated e-mail. I don't think the judge understood how Facebook works."

Mr Osborn was ordered to spend ten days in prison.

His solicitor took the case back to chambers and pleaded with the judge who agreed to release him three days early.

Mr Osborn said: "He told them it was out of my control and it wasn't intentional. Facebook should change their log-in procedure because I found it very confusing.

"This sort of thing could happen to someone else."

Osborn pleaded guilty to the original charge of harassment at Milton Keynes Magistrates' Court on Monday.

The court heard from the prosecution that he sent ten text messages, one picture message and two missed calls to the aggrieved.

One said: "I beg you, please don't sleep with someone else. We need to sort this out."

The prosecution told the magistrates that Mrs Tarbox has suffered from stress since the case began.

William Eaglestone, defending, said: "The messages were not threatening, by and large they were rather sad.

"They are not harassment offences of the worst sort."

Osborn was released on conditional bail and will be sentenced later this month.

The charge for breaching his injunction was dropped.

Standards Board probes town councillor

A TOWN councillor is under investigation by the Standards Board for England.

Two members of the public have made a complaint against Cllr Jamie Chalmers, of Wolverton and Greenleys Town Council.

It is alleged that he failed to declare an interest when helping to make important council decisions.

Joanne Sheppard, from the Standards Board, said: "We received a complaint from a member of the public on August 10 and decided on August 31 to refer the allegations for investigation. That investigation is currently ongoing.

"The purpose of the investigation is to establish whether or not the code has been breached, and no decision is made until the conclusion of the investigation.

"It is possible that there may be complaints which are currently being assessed, as we can only confirm if we have received an allegation once we have decided whether or not to refer it for investigation."

The Standards Board investigates breaches of the Code of Conduct. It confirmed that it had received a further complaint from a member of the public on August 20 but decided not refer it for investigation.

A spokesman for Wolverton and Greenleys Town Council said: "The town council is aware of a complaint having been made to the Standards Board which they are now investigating. We are not able to comment on the investigations while they are in progress."

Caroline Godfrey, community liaison officer at Milton Keynes Council, said: "The monitoring officer is aware of a number of issues surrounding Wolverton and Greenleys Town councillors. We are awaiting the Standards Board's comments on this matter."

Letters to The Editor, MK NEWS, 1 Diamond Court, Fox Milne, Milton Keynes MK15 0DU | letters@mk-news.co.uk

Patience a virtue on congested roads

SIR – Regarding the letter from Miss J Whalley, concerning the attitude of car drivers towards bikers.

While I appreciate that there are some very good bikers out there, for every good biker there appears to be several more who only care about themselves.

I have been a professional HGV driver for more than 30 years and have seen a gradual decline in the standard of driving on our roads, especially regarding bikers.

This, in it's self is stupid considering how much more congested the roads have become.

The biggest problem concerning bikers is the way that they seem to regard the roads as their own private race track, and other road-users are just obstacles put there to test the bikers skills.

All too often myself, and my colleagues will be proceeding at the legal speed limit (40mph single carriageway roads) only to be overtaken by a very high-speed biker, often when another HGV is approaching – effectively making the biker the filling in an HGV sandwich.

How responsible or clever is that?

Unfortunately, it is not only bikers who do this trick, often car drivers do the same thing, then moan when they when are running out of room.

All I can say to people like these, bikers and car drivers is be a more patient, some of us rely on our licences for our livelihood, and therefore cannot afford to continually flout the road laws, we will all finish our journeys even if it takes a couple of minutes longer.

Now hear this

SIR – last week's article on the hearing aid service offered by Specsavers is inaccurate regarding the content that refers to the service offered by Milton Keynes Hospital.

In the article Specsavers' hearing aid audiologist Qazi Ehtsham Rashid is quoted stating that the NHS 'currently has a waiting list of 18 months in Milton Keynes and can only offer basic hearing aids'.

This is highly inaccurate regarding the services offered by the hospital.

The audiology department currently sees new patients within eight weeks for referral and hearing aids are typically fitted within 18 weeks.

Also, the hospital supplies patients with advanced digital hearing aids, the newest kind of hearing aid.

We deliver innovative care to patients delivered by fully trained audiologists, audiological scientists, and a hearing therapist.

Your readers deserve to be accurately informed about local healthcare services, and the innovative work that is undertaken by the NHS to enhance patient care.

Fly our boys home

SIR – On Monday, October 8 members of the Milton Keynes Stop the War Group will join thousands of people in Trafalgar Square to demand that Gordon Brown brings all British troops home from Iraq immediately.

Gordon Brown is due to make a statement to the House of Commons on Iraq that day.

The war and occupation of Iraq has been a costly and damaging disaster – 170 British troops have lost their lives, more than a million Iraqi civilians have been killed, two million Iraqis have been displaced inside Iraq and a further two million Iraqis have fled abroad.

The war has cost British taxpayers £6.6 billion and has made Britain a prime target for terrorist attack.

We need to draw a line under this Bush/Blair-inspired catastrophe.

We must hope that Gordon Brown will break with Blair's policy of support for George Bush's warmongering policy and develop an independent and ethical foreign policy – one based on diplomacy and the pursuit of peace and justice.

I would urge readers to contact their local MP and Gordon Brown to demand the immediate withdrawal of British troops from Iraq.

Our troops are now based outside Basra at the airport. They are serving no strategic or military purpose.

Let us demand that they be flown home now – NOT ONE MORE DEATH

Dave Brunwin
Walton Park

Absentmindedness to blame for accidents

SIR – I fully understand Miss J Whalley's frustration (letters last week) with regard to motorcyle accidents.

She is quite right when she says there was a campaign regarding bike safety, Think Once, Think Twice, Think Bike.

In fact on some of the A-roads around the country this still exists, namely in and around areas where bikers gather like Matlock Bath in Derbyshire.

She is also right when she says that many accidents occur when drivers pull out in front of bikes, it would be true to say that this is mainly due to lack of observation on the driver's part in that they 'look but don't see' – the driver sees the bike but it does not register.

'Observation' means using sight, hearing and even smell to gain as much information about conditions as possible. Effective observation is the foundation of good driving. If you don't know something is there you cannot react to it.

Careful observation gives the you extra time to think and react, it also gives you more control over your driving.

Be honest, how many times have you caught yourself driving absentmindedly, with your mind anwhere but your driving? You're thinking about your family, shopping, what to get the kids for tea and only noticing what is happening immediately in front of you.

In this state you are unprepared to deal with any sudden emergency and are quite likely to become a hazard yourself because you are not fully aware of what other road users are doing.

Bikers – remember what Rule 86 of The Highway Code says about daylight riding 'conspicuous clothing and dipped headlights even in good daylight – be aware that drivers may not have seen you or have misjudged your distance and speed, especially at junctions'.

Drivers – concentration and observation at all times when driving especially at junctions, if you see a bike approaching make eye contact with the rider, that way you ensure that they have seen you.

Pete Lancaster
Bletchley

Wrong playing fields

SIR – An important clarification to your story last week about an Olympic training camp in Milton Keynes.

The sports facilites that I was referring were the Woughton Playing Fields which back onto Woughton Village in my ward.

The Woughton Sports and Leisure Centre is a different facility, located in Leadenhall, which might well be able to offer some excellent facilities for a training camp.

I think that an Olympic training camp is a great opportunity for our city but there are many better venues than the playing fields which are located too close to residents, many of whom are quite elderly.

Cllr Sam Crooks
Middleton Ward

Health panel plea

SIR – The Milton Keynes Patient and Public involvement forums – your local NHS Watchdog is looking to expand the health panel (established in 2002) in order to obtain the views of the patients and the general public on health related subjects and the NHS.

We want to know your experiences and feelings about various issues relevant to the NHS in Milton Keynes.

The health panel will send out surveys or questionnaires throughout the year asking for your opinion. The results will be which are collated and formulated into a report which is then sent to the relevant healthcare professionals and used to improve the quality of your local health services.

We are looking for people who reside in Milton Keynes, which includes the rural towns and villages; people who use NHS services such as the hospital, doctors, dentists, pharmacists and opticians or who have an interest in health matters. We want to know the views of people from all walks of life regardless of race, colour, nationality, age, gender or status.

Unfortunately we cannot accept applications from anyone who works for, or is, otherwise employed by the NHS.

For further information contact Helen on 01908 266696 or e-mail: ForumSupport.Inhouse73 @cppih.org.

John Needham
chairman, Milton Keynes Joint Primary Care & General Hospital PPI Forum

■ SIR – Two weeks ago I helped lead a local citizen's jury for the NHS involving a cross section of staff, patients and the public from across the South Central region.

The event took place in Reading, where participants were among some of the first people in the country to share their views on the future of the NHS as part of a wide ranging review of the health service called 'Our NHS, Our Future'.

Eight other identical events took place on the same day elsewhere in the country linked by satellite and each involving 120 patients, NHS staff and members of the public.

The event was an opportunity to hear first hand from them about what they want to see in the NHS in the years to come as the population lives longer and new technology and drugs are developed.

As a clinician I recognise the significant progress the NHS has made nationally and locally over the last few years, thanks largely to the immense hard work of staff.

Together with increased funding, we have helped to deliver better services for patients. Most importantly patients' chances of survival from diseases such as cancer and coronary heart disease are improving rapidly. Waiting times are also at an all time low.

But it was also very clear in the discussions that this high quality care is not uniformly available for everyone.

For example, in many parts of the region people who have suffered a stroke do not get rapid access to potentially life saving clot-busting treatments.

And in primary care, some GP practices make it easy to book an appointment by providing on-line access to their appointments systems, but in too many practices, patients report that it is difficult to get an appointment at a time that suits them.

I hope that anyone who has a view about how the NHS can improve uses this unique opportunity to shape the NHS for the next decade and beyond. To get involved visit: www.ournhs.nhs.uk

Posters cost DJ a packet

A NIGHTCLUB and a promoter have been fined more than £6,000 for advertising an event by fly posting on road signs and bus stops across the city.

Inventive Leisure Ltd, which owns and run Revolution in the Xscape building, along with events promoter, and DJ Paul Baines of Leighton Buzzard were found guilty of 10 offences of fly posting contrary to the Town and Country Planning Act 1990.

The offences related to over 100 posters displayed on road signs and bus shelters advertising Soulphusion, an event held at Revolution on March 2, 2007.

None of the defendants were represented at Milton Keynes Magistrates Court and the magistrates found them guilty in their absence.

A futher defendant is due to appear at court at later date.

Adspace 2000 Ltd, which maintains the bus shelters for MKC, had to call in contractors to clean and, in some cases, replace the polycarbonate sheeting on the bus shelters to which the posters had been stuck at a cost of nearly £3,500.

Inventive Leisure was fined £2,000 (£200 per poster) and Baines were fined £1,500 each (£150 each per poster).

Each were ordered to pay a third of the compensation to Adspace to cover the cost of the removal of the posters and each defendant was ordered to pay £411.18 towards Milton Keynes Council's legal costs.

Council safer communities manager, Pete Roberts, said: "Those who advertise in this manner are only out for their own gain and care nothing about the clear-up costs, borne by the taxpayer and organisations such as Adspace 2000.

"Advertising in this manner defaces the area, projects an image of deprivation and encourages like offences."

New tribunal after both parties appeal

MK Council and ex-worker unhappy at result of first hearing

BY ALICIA BABAEE

alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

A BLACK man who was racially discriminated against by Milton Keynes Council, is going back to a tribunal after a new hearing was ordered.

In June a tribunal at Bedford found Milton Keynes Council guilty of racial discrimination against Trevor Orr of Warwick Road, Bletchley.

But it also ruled that the council was right to sack him for gross misconduct.

Neither party was happy with the result, and they both appealed against it.

On Friday the parties reconvened in London, and a different tribunal ordered a re-trial.

Mr Orr, 56, the uncle of former Blue star Simon Webb, said: "It is a fiasco. It just keeps costing me, costing me. But I still have to fight it.

"I am still blacklisted because I have gross misconduct against my name and I shouldn't have.

"It makes getting a job very hard."

He was sacked from the council in October 2005 for discussing a confidential issue with youngsters and conducting himself unprofessionally towards his manager.

Mr Orr argued that after his outburst in October 2005 for which he was sacked, he was treated less favourably than a white employee who had behaved in a similar way.

The initial tribunal ruled that this was on the grounds of his race and the council could not prove otherwise.

Still 'blacklisted': Trevor Orr who was sacked by MK Council in 2005. He has since found getting a job 'very hard'

Previously, in 2003, he was accused of downloading pornography while working on a children's project.

The accusation was unfounded and his suspension was lifted, but the tribunal ruled that the council's initial belief was formed on reasonable grounds.

In 2004, Mr Orr was asked to attend a meeting with youth work NVQ tutor Maggie Ramm to discuss his behaviour. During the meeting, comments were made by the tutor which Mr Orr found to be racist.

Through the council's grievance policy and procedure, which was found to be effective by the tribunal, Mr Orr received a letter of apology from the tutor who also agreed to attend race awareness training.

A council spokesman said: ""We are pleased that we have been given a further opportunity to state our case and vindicate our earlier decision.

"Milton Keynes Council is an equal opportunities employe."

The parties are awaiting a date for the new hearing.

Lib Dems' leader award

COUNCIL leader Isobel McCall was the first woman to receive the Inspirational Women of Achievement award at the recent Lib Dem national conference in Brighton.

Cllr McCall was presented with the award by party president, Simon Hughes MP, on the main conference stage in front of an audience of over 1,000 people.

She said; "I am honoured to receive such an award. This is a new award so to become the very first recipient is very flattering."

MARK LANCASTER

Our occasional series of columns continues this week with the thoughts of North-East Milton Keynes MP Mark Lancaster

Scrapping stamp duty on cheaper homes is a step towards affordale houses

LIKE many I was delighted at David Cameron's announcement this week that a Conservative Government would scrap stamp duty on all house purchases for first time buyers up to £250,000.

Affordable housing remains a key issue in the city and one very much at the top of my agenda as a local MP.

If central Government gets it way, Milton Keynes is set to expand rapidly over the coming years whatever local people may or may not want.

While thousands of houses are planned to be built across the city, the real question is ,however, will these homes be truly affordable for the local people who really need them?

Clearly not if the Government continues to collect the ridiculous levels of tax that it currently does every time one is sold.

I have been increasingly frustrated by the fact that a workable solution to the shortage of affordable housing still has not been offered by the Government.

We all remember the spin surrounding the cynical £60,000 home announcement last year at the Renny Lodge site in Newport Pagnell by John Prescott.

It seemed there might finally be a solution to the lack of affordable housing in Milton Keynes until, that is, we discovered that the figure of £60,000 was the build cost and the real cost of these homes was £289,000.

It is abundantly clear that this is not a price tag that the many first time buyers in Milton Keynes can even consider.

WE were blatantly misled by Government and that is simply not good enough. As an expanding city that will be seeing a sizeable increase in housing it is extremely important that a proportion of that housing will be affordable for our long term residents, young first time buyers and key workers.

A further complexity to the issue is, of course, who gets priority of access to the little affordable housing that is around.

At present some priority is given to key workers and while I am in complete agreement with this, I can not help but feel that precisely where they are working should perhaps be a factor when judging eligibility.

For example, is an individual working in Milton Keynes or commuting to London?

At a time when all seem keen to minimise unnecessary travel, should priority be given to those who live and work locally when allocating housing?

Similarly, the council recently changed its housing points system to a band structure whereby people are placed on different levels of priority.

THE aim of this change was to aid applicants in their chances of gaining housing and to help the council to allocate housing appropriately.

This restructuring was clearly needed, but precisely what factors are now considered when assessing who should be placed in which band?

Shouldn't consideration be given (as one of several criteria) as to how long an individual has been a resident of Milton Keynes, thus ensuring that local people have some priority?

I believe so.

Affordable housing must be adequately worked into the future expansion of Milton Keynes, but with previous glib promises of '£60,000' homes from Government I sense that we still have a long way to go, but a scrap in stamp duty would at least be a step in the right direction.

Hospital in charge of its own destiny

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

> Becoming a foundation trust will enable local people and staff to become more involved in making decisions about their hospital
> – Jill Rodney, chief executive of MK Hospital NHS Foundation Trust

MILTON Keynes Hospital has been granted official NHS Foundation Trust status today.

Becoming a foundation trust will mean the hospital is able to offer better services by giving more power to the hospital and the local population.

The news comes exactly one year after MKNEWS exclusively revealed that the hospital had postponed its bid for foundation status due to a financial crisis.

Trust bosses said at the time that they needed to iron out financial issues with the Primary Care Trust (PCT).

But today Milton Keynes Hospital NHS Foundation Trust chief executive Jill Rodney said: "We are delighted with today's announcement. Becoming a foundation trust will enable local people and staff to become more involved in making decisions about their hospital.

"The new status will enable us to do even more for patients.

"This is testament to the hard work and dedication of all trust staff whose efforts have been rightly rewarded with such a positive independent assessment.

"Our aim now is to ensure that we provide even better healthcare for the people of Milton Keynes and the surrounding area."

To be awarded foundation status the hospital had to prove a consistent record in delivering first-class patient care, and show it had balanced its books for the past three years.

The new rank, which will increase accountability, was announced by the independent regulator, Monitor, and comes into effect immediately.

As a foundation trust the hospital is no longer subject to direction from the Secretary of State for Health.

Under foundation status, trust members, including local people, patients and staff, will be elected to a board of 25 governors known as a members' council.

The hospital already has over 4,400 public members from across the community and around 7,200 members in total.

Peter Ballantyne, public representative of the hospital's members' council said: "This is excellent news for the citizens of Milton Keynes as we now have an official voice in the trust's planning process. I'm looking forward to putting local views forward."

Foundation trusts are able to pay staff over and above nationally agreed terms and conditions while remaining part of the NHS family that offers free care.

The hospital recently completed work on a £7.4m, 1,000 space four-deck car park which is ensuring patients, visitors and staff can commute more easily.

There is a new cardiac angiography suite, a newly refurbished sexual health centre, plans to introduce bowel screening by April 2008, a long-term programmes to expand several clinical areas, and to enhance reception, waiting and corridor areas started in 2007.

Milton Keynes Hospital NHS Foundation Trust is set continue its drive to recruit local people to become members.

If you are interested in the future development of the hospital please e-mail: foundationmembers@mkgeneral.nhs.uk or visit www.mkgeneral.nhs.uk.

MKNEWS BRIEFS

No ordinary store

MILTON Keynes Council has agreed plans for a new Marks and Spencer store to be built at the Denbigh stadium site.

As revealed in MK NEWS last week the 13,928 square metre shop will make it M&S's largest out of town store in the region.

Money from the deal will enable stadium owners Inter MK the chance to put in the remaining upper tear seats and finish off the MK Dons home to a UEFA 4 ranking and allow it to host European matches.

The store will include a cafe and parking for 535 vehicles.

Man faces rape charges

A 27-YEAR-OLD man has been remanded in custody after allegedly raping a woman three times on one day.

Ryan Carrara, of Nevis Grove, Bletchley, appeared at Milton Keynes Magistrates' Court on Monday.

He has been charged with three counts of rape that allegedly took place on Saturday.

The case was commited to Aylesbury Crown Court for later this month.

From cop to coffee

THE coffee market in Milton Keynes is heating up as gourmet coffee specialists, Gloria Jean's Coffees opens in the hub:mk.

To celebrate, owners Steve and Vanessa Hunt are inviting customers to wear their jeans into the store on Friday to raise funds for Jeans for Genes Day, helping children with genetic disorders.

Former police officer Steve Hunt and his wife Vanessa from Oldbrook said: "We are delighted to be able to support Jeans for Genes day and will donate 10 per cent of customers' bills if they come into the store wearing their jeans."

Council-run kids home in danger of being closed

A HOME for children with severe or profound learning disabilities may be closed.

Westminster Drive Children's Home in Bletchley provides a long term children's home for six young people.

The home is owned and run by Milton Keynes Council, which has decided the facility is not well enough equipped to meet the needs of children with physical disabilities or co-ordination difficulties.

The council says the home is under used as children with these conditions are having to be placed in homes outside Milton Keynes.

Last week (Tuesday, September 25) the council cabinet chose to appoint an external provider to develop a suitable replacement for the service.

Other options included adapting some bungalows to create a council-run facility, or extending Furze House respite unit to provide an attached but separate unit.

Sandra Clark, cabinet member for children and young people, said: "No decision has yet been made to close Westminster Drive.

"We will go out to consultation to see if there are people who wish to run a service to replace the home."

She said the home cannot be adapted to improve access as the two semi-detached houses could not structurally cope with fitting lifts.

She guaranteed that it will not be closed until an alternative service has been found.

"There will be absolutely no change to the care that the current two residents receive. Whatever we do, there will be full consultation either with the young people themselves or with their parents and carers."

"They have been there a long time so to disturb them would be unacceptable."

Reassured: Maria Cater with daughter Presley

Hospice is a 'lifeline' for mum and full time carer

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A SINGLE mother and full time carer for her disabled two year old daughter says a local children's hospice is her 'lifeline'.

Maria Cater, from Howitt Drive, Bradville thanked Keech Cottage Children's Hospice for its support during the recent national Children's Hospice Week.

Keech Cottage, based near Luton, offers care and support free of charge to terminally ill children and their families in Milton Keynes, Bedfordshire and Hertfordshire.

Maria's daughter Presley Stewart has meningitis and septicaemia caused by Group B streptococcus, a bacterial infection she caught at birth.

She also suffers from epilepsy, extensive brain damage known as Global Developmental Delay, cerebral palsy and blindness.

Presley visits Keech two nights every month where she receives holistic therapy to ease her symptoms including massage, Reiki, and hydrotherapy.

"They take over all her needs and do exactly what I do usually," said Maria.

"They become her mum for the time she is in there.

"I feel completely reassured that they know how to care for her.

"If I decided I wanted to stay with her they have facilities for parents to sleep and you can come down and see your child whenever you want.

"But I have stopped doing that because I know she will have a great time and get 100 per cent care."

She said the staff are now like their extended family.

"Presley recognises the voices of all the nurses and when she gets there she is happy and content."

Maria, a trained staff nurse who was employed at MK General hospital, has given up work to look after her daughter.

Presley's visit to Keech gives her mother a break from full-time care.

"It gives me time to do the normal things such as house work and shopping," said Maria.

"Without Keech I would end up with nothing to look forward to doing in my own time.

"It would be a real struggle.

"They are also there if you have an emergency within the home," she added.

"For example three months ago I cut my finger badly and would have found it difficult, so Keech looked after Presley for a week. They are our lifeline."

Presley and her mother also receive weekly visits from Milton Keynes' Keech community nurse, Nikki Treanor.

"She gives me emotional support and arranges when Presley will go into Keech," said Maria.

"She is always there on the end of the telephone if there are any problems or to give advice."

She added that the support network supplied by Keech Cottage is another of the key benefits.

"It allows me to meet up with other families in a similar situation and realise that I am not the only one with a child with problems," she said.

"They also put me in touch with other organisations that can help me through their contacts."

Keech Cottage costs £200 million a year to run, 75 per cent of which is supplied solely through donations from the public.

Clubbers clean

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

DRUG searches on clubbers at city bars and nightclubs have failed to detect any illegal substances.

Thames Valley Police began the searches on Saturday night but no illegal drugs were found on any of the people searched.

Officers visited Moon Under Water, City Limits and Mood between 9.30pm and 1.00am and used a machine called the Itemiser in an attempt to detect traces of illegal substances.

Clubbers were randomly searched on the door, in the presence of police, door staff, management and an Environmental Health Officer.

If the Itemiser showed a trace reading, the person was searched.

Thames Valley Police said there will be similar operations in the future and warned that any customers found with an unacceptable trace will be refused entry from the venue.

It said anyone found with any illegal drugs will be arrested and may be subject to a Barwatch ban from premises in the area and will be arrested.

Police licensing officer, Lin Poizat, said: "We are very pleased with the results and intend the use of the Itemisers to be a regular feature of the policing operation at licensed premises across MK.

"It will allow police and partners, in association with barwatch and licensees, to take a robust and zero tolerance regime to anyone contaminated by prohibited drugs, making Milton Keynes a safer place to enjoy a night out."

Have-a-go DJs get chance to 'Stick It On'

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

HAVE you ever asked a DJ to stick your favourite tune on?

Well now you don't need to – because you can stick it on yourself.

A new night called Stick It On is starting in Milton Keynes.

Wannabee DJs are being invited to have their 15 minutes of fame behind the decks as part of the new DJ democracy mindset.

Anyone who thinks they know how to get a party started will be given the chance to wow the crowd.

The first night is due to take place in December at a venue to be confirmed.

City promoter Jason Charles said: "Stick It On doesn't have any guest DJs, the only stars are the people who come along and have a go.

"The night is split into 15 minute slots where people come and play what they want

"It is a DJ democracy so we want as many people to come and give it a go as possible. Anything goes, you can play music from CDs, vinyl, cassettes or anything else that makes a sound.

"You can be male or female, 18 or 80, black or white, punk or townie and you can play anything from chart, disco, blues, folk, big band, soul, 60s, 70s, 80s, 90s, swing, rock, punk, drum n bass, emo, or even songs from your favourite musical.

"This isn't a DJ competition and you never have to of picked up a record before in your life to play because we'll help you get your tunes on. We just want you to do anything that you think will get people dancing."

The successful night was founded by Rob Drysdale in Brighton ten years ago and has since spread to venues in London, Southampton, Clapham and Loughborough.

He said: "It's just a chance your you to put some sun in peoples hearts, rock the dancefloor, shake what your mama gave ya and enjoy yourself.

"We aim to put the fun back into going out where you can hear the widest selection of great music that is picked and played by you."

Mixing is actively disco and there are no prizes.

If you think you have wh it takes to play, then email a list of songs that you think will raise the roof and a DJ name you would like to go by (Vinyl Richie, Mixmaster Maureen etc) to apply@stickiton.org.uk

New race body to continue with MK Partnership case

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

RACE watchdogs are still investigating the agency responsible for the expansion of Milton Keynes.

In February MK NEWS reported on the investigation which followed accusations that Milton Keynes Partnership has failed to carry out its racial equality duties.

But eight months on, the investigation is still ongoing.

The Commission for Racial Equality (CRE), which disbanded this week, launched the probe after it received complaints about the quango from members of the public.

The new body set up in its place, the Commission for Equality and Human Rights (CEHR), will take the investigation on.

Milton Keynes Partnership could face court action if it is found to have acted in a racist way.

It is understood that complaints have been made by members of the public to the Milton Keynes Council of Faiths over MKP's failure to consult with it properly over the regeneration of the city.

Navrita Atwal, director of the Milton Keynes Racial Equality Council (MKREC), said: "Public bodies and statutory organisations have a duty to promote race equality. Failure to promote the duty can have serious consequences.

"It is important for regeneration agencies to consult widely with all groups that form the community of Milton Keynes. The duty reiterates that it is up to agencies to go out there and consult using every method they possibly can to reach the 'hard to reach' groups.

"As this has not been the case, many multicultural or faith groups have complained. The future of MK depends on this agency. They should have a say in what their future city will look like."

Plans for a large Orthodox Jewish group from Stamford Hill, North London to move to the Tattenhoe Park grid square on the western flank of Milton Keynes, were scrapped in December 2006.

In another incident, a Hindu group was unable to obtain land at Middleton

It is understood that the CRE received complaints from both of these groups.

Duty: Milton Keynes Racial Equality Council boss Navrita Atwal

A spokesman for the CRE said last October: "I can confirm that a complaint has been made regrading this issue.

"However as this is still at an early stage I am unable to give any more details until the matter has been fully concluded."

Last week they confirmed that the investigation was ongoing and that it would continue when the body disbanded.

A spokesman for MKP said at the time: "Milton Keynes Partnership is working closely with the CRE and Milton Keynes Council on this matter.

"While this investigation is on going we are unable to comment any further."

Mrs Atwal from the Racial Equality Council - welcomed the new body and added: "When a regeneration project takes place without local residents and businesses being properly consulted or included in the decision making process, the consequences can be negative for everyone.

"This could cause more inequality and increase tensions between racial groups.

"We would like people to tell us about their experiences, success stories as well as examples of unfair treatment."

Welcome for new human rights and equality watchdog

MILTON Keynes Racial Equality Council (MKREC) has welcomed a new body brought in nationally to replace the Commission for Racial Equality.

The Commission for Equality and Human Rights will replace Commission for Racial Equality, Disability Rights Commission and Equal Opportunities Commission.

The new body will cover race, faith, gender, age, disability and sexuality.

Navrita Atwal, director of the MKREC, said that Milton Keynes is in the process of setting up a Race Equality Partnership and a Diversity Partnership.

She said: "This is a huge challenge for us in Milton Keynes as we have to mirror what is happening nationally.

"We hope that the new commission will foster partnerships at local, regional and national levels and give advice and guidance, including to businesses, the voluntary and public sectors, and also to individuals."

Prisoner numbers at record high

THE governor at Woodhill prison says he is having to deal with record numbers of inmates at his jail.

Luke Serjeant believes increased inmate numbers is stretching staff meaning there are insufficient workplaces available for prisoners.

Last Friday (September 28) figures released by the Ministry of Justice revealed that prisoner numbers in England and Wales are at a record high with 81,135 people locked up in jails and in police stations on September 27.

This exceeded the previous record of 81,040 inmates reached at the end of June, when the government's emergency early release scheme came into effect.

Mr Serjeant said that Milton Keynes prison has been operating at or around its capacity for quite some time.

The prison, which was originally designed to house prisoners in single cells, now takes 807 inmates.

The House Units were designed to hold 120 prisoners but now accommodate 164.

"This puts pressure on many other aspects of the regime and with insufficient workplaces available in the prison means we hold more prisoners with nothing constructive for them to do," said Mr Serjeant.

"Staff have less time to tackle the issues for each individual prisoner which means there is less time to sort out issues prior to discharge including accommodation, employment, drugs, debt and family issues.

"These are all factors which, if not tackled, raise the likelihood of re-offending and the chances of these prisoners returning to custody. Our job is not just about punishment it is also about reducing the risk of re-offending - this is certainly being made more difficult as a result of the record numbers currently being held in our prisons."

At least 40 prisoners have been released early from since June 29.

"This provided some relief over the summer, but nationally the population has continued to rise and it is becoming a real concern," he added.

Brees formed to put the wind up Blot and Blew

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A PRO-WIND power group says it has built strong support for a wind farm near Emberton.

The group known as Bucks Renewable Energy and Environment Society, or Brees, launched on April 28 this year.

It was set up in opposition to local group Bucks Lacks Enough Wind (Blew) and Bozeat and Lavendon Oppose the Turbines (Blot) which are campaigning against two applications for wind turbines.

Five months after formation,Brees says it has the support of more than 200 people for a wind farm on Petsoe Manor Farm, near Emberton.

An application for seven turbines was submitted to Milton Keynes Council in August 2006.

The company behind the scheme is Your Energy, a UK based wind farm developer.

The plant would produce enough electricity to power up to 9,000 homes.

It could reduce CO2 emissions by as much as 36,300 tonnes a year, equivalent to taking over 13,000 cars off the road.

Mark Handford of Brees, said: It's been our aim to outweigh the noisy but vocal minority and we've been particularly keen to show that an aggressive, negative campaign in north Milton Keynes was being orchestrated by a small number of individuals seeking to distort their numbers.

"We firmly believe that most reasonable people in Milton Keynes care about where their future power is going to come from and that we need to work to reduce our reliance on fossil fuels.

"We have become a strong force in the area as a group who care about their environment and think wind farms are a good way to help cut our carbon emissions.

"Additionally, we are trying to help to explain why wind farms become a less reliable source of power when solely located in remote coastal waters. "That's why wind-farms are needed on inland locations like north Milton Keynes."

Anti-wind farm campaign group Blew argues that Milton Keynes is in an area of low wind speed, which means the amount of energy generated from this site will be very low.

It claims the plant will make little difference to local energy needs and the 125m high turbines will ruin views across the open countryside.

Cllr Debbie Brock, who represents the Olney ward and is chairman of Blew, said objectors are not in the minority.

"This is utterly untrue," she said.

"Every single parish council across the Emberton and Olney wards has written in and objected.

"This is a vast amount of the local population.

"In addition I know that an awful lot of local people have written letters of objection."

She said 80 per cent of residents asked in a survey by Emberton Parish Council were against the proposals.

A date remains to be set by Milton Keynes Council to discuss the application.

An application for another 16 turbines between Bozeat and Lavendon was made by energy giants Npower on August 11 2006.

The plans have been slammed by pressure group Blot and by the owners of Lower Farm Stables on Castle Road, Lavendon, who fear horse riders will no longer be able to use a neighbouring bridleway due to noise and light disturbance.

The planning deadline for the application was extended by Wellingborough Borough Council to September 2007.

A decision date has not yet been set.

Better maternity care at hospital as births rise

MATERNITY services at Milton Keynes Hospital will be improved to cope with increasing births.

A public health review proposed increasing midwife numbers, providing more advice and care during pregnancy and improving access to facilities such as children's centres.

Milton Keynes Hospital delivered 3,633 babies last year, an increase of eight per cent on 2004/5.

The review was conducted by Dr Sanhita Chakrabarti, specialist registrar in public health, and Dr Diane Gray, consultant in public health medicine at Milton Keynes Primary Care Trust.

Dr Gray said: "With more and more people coming to live in Milton Keynes, the number of births is expected to top 4,000 within the next five years.

"But it is not just the sheer numbers of births that put pressure on maternity services, very young and old mothers, women who are clinically obese and non-English speaking mothers all bring with them additional challenges. This review marks the start of the journey to prepare maternity services in Milton Keynes for the challenges in the near future. This is a young city attracting young families and the health of its women and children is paramount."

The review was prompted by a national requirement for PCTs to assess how close maternity services in their area were to meeting the Government's aspirations.

The public health team interviewed midwives, doctors, GPs, health visitors and mothers.

Their proposals also included developing leadership within the midwifery workforce.

The Milton Keynes Maternity Services Liaison Committee will monitor the changes.

■ The maternity unit recently celebrated achieving level two assessment in the NHS Litigation Authority scheme, which is designed to ensure high standards for the management of risk to staff and patients.

Making a tax-efficient Will now, could save your family many thousands of pounds in the future.

Increasing numbers of people, including homeowners, business people and investors, have assets that will be affected by inheritance tax upon their death.

The rapid rise in house prices mean that more and more people's estates will pay inheritance tax.

Making a will puts you in control and helps you to provide lasting security for those who depend on you. Without a will, those who depend on you financially may receive nothing, or your bequest may be held for them in trust unnecessarily. This can leave your loved ones having to make a claim to the Court for financial provision and unnecessary inheritance tax going to the Inland Revenue.

Nil rate band discretionary trust wills are of particular importance for married couples and offer great scope to mitigate the impact of Inheritance Tax on your Estate. This tax saving arises by the solicitor attempting to ensure that each spouse utilises their own nil rate band allowance, currently £300,000. A correctly drafted and administered will can offer a potential Inheritance Tax saving of £120,000.

We are experienced in advising clients on reducing the liability to tax on their estates, both through lifetime arrangements and under their wills, and in preparing trusts and other documents. We are happy to work with other professional advisors, believing in a 'joined up' approach to achieve the best results for the client.

We have specialist solicitors available at all our offices dealing with wills, ranging from simple wills for individuals and married couples to more complex wills including inheritance tax planning, whatever your circumstances.

Once more unto the beach, dear friends

Beach babe: Anita Rose relax's next to Willen Lake

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

BEACH babe Anita Rose says her hopes of somewhere sandy to throw down her towel have moved a step closer.

The driving force behind the city's beach plan has been invited to inspect existing man-made beaches and lakes by Milton Keynes Council's architectural officers.

Mrs Rose, who has been fighting for a beach in Milton Keynes for more than three years, will join council staff when they visit Cotswold Water Park on October 11.

The park, spread across North Wiltshire and South Gloucestershire, consists of 40 square miles of wetland including 140 lakes formed after years of gravel and sand extraction.

It is a major visitor attraction with several nature reserves and activities including kayaking, boat hire, fishing, waterskiing and windsurfing.

The architectural officers will primarily be looking at how the park keeps the water clean in the lakes.

Only two months ago Mrs Rose, 67, from Church Lees, Great Linford said she was losing hope as other areas including Birmingham, Swindon and Kings Lynn, have built beaches before Milton Keynes.

Now she is pleased the project seems to be moving ahead.

"They have let me get involved in my beach," she said.

"I am so pleased as I have been fighting for so long. I am so excited."

A spokesman for MK Council said the officers will be looking at more man-made beaches and lakes over the next few months.

The council is looking at setting up a temporary beach next summer and perhaps something permanent in the future.

However, funding for the project still needs to be found.

Leisure centre is given green light

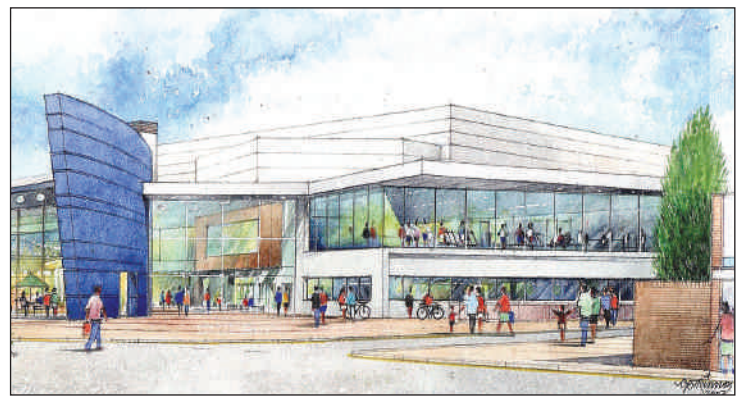
BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk



DETAILED plans for a new leisure centre and housing in Bletchley have been given the go ahead.

The proposals were given the all clear despite residents' protests over the loss of the ornamental lakes, green space and trees.

As reported in this paper last week, Abigail Stephenson of Weston Road fears the loss of the lakes will increase the risk of flooding and ruin the view enjoyed by residents.

The plans for the multi-million pound project were passed at a meeting of Milton Keynes Council's development control committee last Thursday (September 28).

The new £18million leisure centre will replace the old facility with its distinctive pyramid design, which was built in 1971.

The new centre will include a fitness suite, an eight lane swimming pool, a large sports hall for badminton, netball and basketball, a martial arts and gymnastics area, four squash courts and an eight lane indoor bowls rink.

Cllr Euan Henderson, cabinet member responsible, said: "This is fantastic news and will make a real difference to people living not just in Bletchley, but in other parts of Milton Keynes."

"The original leisure centre was a great facility back in its day but this was the early 1970s and I think most people would agree that it is time to move on.

"One of the main improvements of the new centre has to be the swimming pool, which will come complete with ultra-modern easy access for disabled people.

"Bletchley is in the spotlight now – for all the right reasons."

Phase one of the 'Building a Better Bletchley' regeneration project includes plans for the new leisure centre, a 180-space multi-storey car park and 70 homes off Princes Way.

Most of the 300 houses will be constructed during phase two.

The current leisure centre, car park, ornamental lakes, bowling green and disused hard paved tennis courts will be demolished to make way for the development.

Outline planning approval was granted in July last year.

Project leader Paul Sanders, assistant director of leisure, learning and culture at MK Council, added: "Our project team put in hundreds of hours, from the inception of the plans through to the detailed consultation we carried out, on getting these plans right.

"The majority of people were in favour of these plans, which we believe will completely transform not only Bletchley but also provide a positive 'glow' on the rest of Milton Keynes."

Milton Keynes Council has been given £5 million of government funding, £1 million from Sport England and £3.5 million by English Partnerships to fund the project.

It is part of a wider Bletchley regeneration scheme which includes a revamped Queensway and apartments and shops at Stephenson House.

Entertainment will include a light parade, a son et lumiere show, and huge gas jet flames choreographed to music.

Community participation will be encouraged, and the 2007 theme will incorporate the city's 40th birthday celebrations.

Light Fantastic will not centre on a single location or stage, but will instead offer a continuous programme of entertainment and interactivity for visitors to explore, located around thecentre:mk and Midsummer Place.

The event takes place on Friday, October 12 and Saturday, October 13 from 5pm to 10pm.

A lantern parade will wend its way through the streets and there will also be a rare opportunity to see world renowned, avant garde French aerial act Transe Express.

They have only appeared in the UK on a few occasions and at Milton Keynes will perform Maudits Sonnants, with an orchestra of bell ringers and aerial acrobats raised 50m above the city centre.

To accompany such a feast for the senses, Light Fantastic will also have tasty food and drink from around the world served in the Global Cafe area.

Tiggywinkles to get wishing pool cash

THE beneficiary for this year's wishing pool at thecentre:mk's Christmas show has been announced – all the funds raised will be donated to Tiggywinkles, The Wildlife Hospital Trust.

Tiggywinkles was selected to tie in with the theme for this year's Christmas Show which is Kenneth Grahame's Wind in the Willows tale featuring Toad, Ratty, Mole, Badger and Friends.

Jackie Tracey, Project Manager of the Christmas show at thecentre:mk said: "This charity does such excellent work in caring for sick animals and we encourage everyone to give generously to the wishing pool fund to benefit the work they do. Christmas is all about kindness and giving, so we will be highlighting the plight of injured wildlife while we bring pleasure and delight to those who visit our display."

Every year in Britain over five million wild animals and birds are injured as a direct result of their encounters with man and man's world. Tiggywinkles, The Wildlife Hospital Trust is a specialist hospital. Using all available veterinary welfare skills, we are dedicated to rescuing and rehabilitating all species of British wildlife.

Since opening their doors over 200 000 patients have received treatment at The Wildlife Hospital Trust. This remarkable number of patients has included hedgehogs, badgers, rabbits, deer, wild birds, snakes, toads, in fact virtually all species of British wildlife.

Les Stocker MBE, Founder says "We have always had a close affinity with Milton Keynes and are so priveleged to have been chosen for the Wishing Pool this year. We will be putting the money towards various projects at the centre, including a large flight aviary for red kites, education centre and a seal and swan sanctuary."

thecentre:mk's Christmas display in Middleton Hall opens on Tuesday, November 6. Shoppers are invited to toss their spare coins into the wishing pool as each penny added makes a difference. Last year the money collected from the wishing pool amounted to a record breaking £25 000 for charity.

The Christmas show opens at 10am on Tuesday, November 6 and at 4pm Father Christmas arrives on his sleigh in a grand procession with his reindeer , to open the Grotto – the resplendent Toad Hall.

The main indoor attractions this year include the awe-inspiring display with recreated scenes from the book, a meandering riverbank with bridges, Ratty in his boat and Mole picnicking alongside. The riverbank stretches the length of Middleton Hall, with a delightful Boathouse ticket office and a working waterwheel. Badger will be taking on the role of storyteller for the show and will be performing every 20 minutes.

Toad's various fads and crazes are an integral part of the story with his Romany caravan complete with cob horse, plus a dazzling vintage car suspended above the show. The magical double decker carousel is back, along with the traditional nativity scene and Santa's Grotto.

Big things are planned for pint-sized singer Natalie

A LITTLE girl from Eaglestone has been hailed a dead cert for fame and fortune by her management agency.

With her tiny frame, pink trousers and motif T-shirt, Natalie Kassanga looks like any other 10-year-old girl.

But when she opens her mouth to sing, you realise she's not just like any other little girl.

Her voice has developed way beyond her years, and her management agency has big things planned for her.

She started singing almost as soon as she could talk, and when she was three-years-old her mum noticed that she had talent.

A modest Natalie, who goes to Falconhurst School, said: "All the time I change the channel to music ones, but most of all I do it on the internet on a laptop. I learn songs by myself, I look for the lyrics.

"But still now I don't know how good I am, I'd like to be a really good singer.

"I'd like to be in the X-Factor but I'm not old enough. My dream is to have a recording contract like Leona Lewis."

She recently sang to a crowd of hundreds as part of an MKVIBE showcase of talent outside the Xscape building.

MKVIBE, now managing Natalie since the event, had arranged for Natalie to sing two songs.

But the crowd were so impressed by her that they demanded more, and the pint-sized starlet ended up singing five songs including Whitney Houston's 'I Will Always Love You' and Mariah Carey's 'Think Twice'.

During one song, her backing music cut out, but just like a professional, Natalie soldiered on.

She said: "To start with I didn't even realise the music had stopped. But then I just knew I had to carry on.

"It was embarrassing but I knew it would be even more embarrassing if I just stood still like a statue."

Andy Jones, from MKVIBE, said: " As soon as I heard the young girl, I realised there was something magical about her clear, strong voice and confident soul style.

"She ended up doing five performances on the day, each one getting stronger and stronger as her confidence grew."

One spectator said: "She was amazing, like a young Whitney."

Now the management agency plans to turn Natalie into a star.

She said: "I believe that in Natalie, Milton keynes has a performer who could go all the way

"Although as a very young performer, we will ensure that her introduction to the public will be well managed and taken a speed that will ensure that her education, schooling and natural development wont affect her character and normal development through her early years."

MK VIBE support local artists in providing showcases at live events including Buddha Blue under 18's nights, The Beacon and other events including talent shows.

They also showcase artists via www.mkvibe.com with biographies, pictures and a track player which gives the artists a chance to have up to 150 visitors a day to listen to their music, helping them to build a reputation.

Natalie's mum Sylvia Anacrente said: "I am loving this.

"But when she did the showcase I was so nervous myself, I couldn't look. I was very proud.

"I hear her singing all the time. My little boy who is four sometimes says to me 'Oh mummy can you tell Natalie to stop? She's giving me a headache!'.

"It's her dream to be a singer.

"We have Leona Lewis recorded on Sky, and we all know that that can never be deleted.

"Natalie says to me 'Mummy would you be proud if that was me standing there?'

"I wish I could give her more to help her pursue her career, I'd be 100 per cent happy to see her fulfil her dream."

Natalie has been linked up with a local music duo who are also signed to MKVIBE to act as her mentors and help her with professional recordings and songwriting.

She has been welcomed into the MadCap performing arts charity community at Wolverton, and takes singing, drama and dance lessons at Stage Coach.

MK VIBE also offers music videos, DVDs and professional recording to all the up-and-coming artists they take on at no cost to the artists.

Andy Jones added: "She is already showing a maturity beyond her years in regards to music and live performances and I think it is a safe bet to say, that within a year, Milton Keynes will be proud to say that we have produced a truely magnificent singer who will be a marvellous success at all levels of the music industry."

New chief set to give air doc a lift

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

AN experienced boss has been brought in to take a local air ambulance to new heights.

The Thames Valley & Chiltern Air Ambulance Trust has appointed a new chief executive to lead the charity into its next phase of development.

The air ambulance provides a rapid response emergency service to Milton Keynes and the rest of Buckinghamshire, Berkshire, Oxfordshire and parts of Northamptonshire and Hampshire.

New leader Lyn Paver was formerly the chief executive of Devon Air Ambulance Trust (DAAT) during the charity's most successful period.

Mrs Paver joined DAAT in 1998 before becoming chief executive in 2001.

She led some of the charity's most significant initiatives including acquiring a new helicopter, introducing a second aircraft for North Devon, extending the flying hours to seven days a week and establishing two new air ambulance bases within the county.

Under her stewardship, DAAT also became the first air ambulance service to buy its own helicopter outright.

She hopes to help the Thames Valley air ambulance expand in a similar way.

"Thames Valley is ambitious to develop and enhance its services," she said.

"This is a hugely responsible job at a very exciting time.

Lyn Paver: New boss of Thames Valley & Chiltern Air Ambulance Trust

"My role will include further winning the hearts and minds of the public who depend on the air ambulance service over a very wide area but many of whom fail to appreciate that it is funded entirely by public support."

The charity must meet a running cost of £1.2m each year solely from sponsorship, public donations and fundraising activities.

The trust also plans to intensify its fundraising efforts to acquire a brand new EC135 Eurocopter.

Its current helicopter is closing in on its 10,000th mission.

Colin Lee, chairman of Thames Valley Air Ambulance Trust said: "The Devon Air Ambulance Trust is regarded as a model operation.

"Thames Valley is equally ambitious so it was natural for us to want to employ the best."

The Thames Valley air ambulance is based at RAF Benson, near Wallingford, Oxfordshire.

School's auction with a difference

TWO weeks of ironing done for you, five Italian lessons, your Christmas presents wrapped, expert help filling out an UCAS form, a beginner's judo course, private physics tuition, free babysitting, and a kitchen redesign.

Those are just some of the goodies coming under the hammer at a unique charity auction that takes place on Friday at Stantonbury Leisure Centre.

The event, organised by Stantonbury Campus students and staff, aims to raise funds for the campus' ambitious exchange with schools in Tanzania and India.

Punters can also bid for a chance to share a literary lunch with romantic novelist Kate Allan, make a demo at local recording studio with Crazeltown Productions or get a Pantogram for one of your mates – a visit from the ugly sisters courtesy of Milton Keynes Theatre of Comedy?

Stantonbury's Nick Higgins said: "Our partnerships with Rukmani Devi School in India and with Iringa Girls School and Tosamaganga Secondary School for Boys in Tanzania are a unique chance for students to learn about each other's lives and cultures.

"The students have done a fantastic job raising the funds to help bring our guests from India and Tanzania. But now it all starts again to fund their own visit to our partner schools."

The auction, which starts at 7.30pm, includes a bar, food and music.

COMPETITION

Win tickets to watch Mel Brook's The Producers

DIRECT from the West End, Mel Brook's hilarious new musical comes to Milton Keynes.

This multi-award winning musical is the winner of every major Best New Musical Award including the Laurence Olivier, Evening Standard and Critics Circle Awards as well as the most Tony Awards in Broadway history, a staggering 12 in total.

And best of all YOU can win a pair of tickets for a performance on Wednesday, October 17 as MK NEWS has FOUR pairs to give away.

When down-on-his-luck theatrical producer Max Bialystock (Cory English)and his hapless accountant, Leo Bloom (Joe Pasquale), hatch the ultimate theatrical scam: to raise more money than they need to produce a sure-fire Broadway disaster... and then pocket the left-over cash when the show flops - who do they turn to? The world's worst director, of course; Roger DeBris (Russ Abbot). Their guaranteed-to-fail fiasco? 'Springtime for Hitler - The Musical'!

They are joined by Emma-Jayne Appleyard as Ulla, Alex Giannini as Franz Liebkind and Robin Sebastian as Carmen Ghia.

Performances Monday- Saturday 7.30pm and Wednesday and Saturday 2.30pm. Tickets £15 - £37.30. MK Theatre Box Office: 0870 060 6652 (bkg fee).

www.miltonkeynestheatre.com (bkg fee).

Milton Keynes Council

Your money, your choice:

Budget consultation 2008/09

Here is an opportunity to have your say on the council's budget. Everyone uses council services, such as roads and pavements, recycling and waste collection and so decisions on the council's budget affect you. Your councillors want to hear what your priorities are and what you want money spent on and they want to give as many people as possible the opportunity to have their say.

Every year your councillors decide what to spend the council's limited budget on. If money is spent in one area it means there is less to spend elsewhere and so deciding priorities for all council services is essential. Council spending covers everything from schools, early years centres, maintaining roads and pavements, running leisure centres and children's homes, to providing home and residential care for the old and vulnerable, supporting people with mental health problems, maintaining parks and playgrounds, protecting public health and much more.

In the next financial year, the council expects to spend around £160million as the city grows on providing important local services and over the coming months, the council will be making decisions on how to spend this money. To help us make the right decisions, we would like to hear your views on our current plans for spending on services and on Council Tax levels.

Priorities

The Community Strategy vision for Milton Keynes is a city "that thinks differently, embraces evolution and champions change". The council has a major role in helping to deliver the vision for Milton Keynes. To help achieve this it has set out its own priorities for service delivery. The council's priorities for 2006-09 are:

- Improve the quality of the environment in which we live
- Improve public transport
- Promote equality and social inclusion and improve health
- Provide affordable housing for those in need
- Deliver high quality outcomes for children and families
- Continue to improve school standards
- Support people who need help to live independent lives
- Reduce crime and the fear of crime
- Improve the experience of our customers
- Deliver an excellent housing service.

AA656622

Where the money comes from

The council gets income from you, the borough's residents in the form of Council Tax, which is set by your councillors. The council also gets funding from central government grants.

| | 2007/08 Budget (£million) |
|---|---|
| Council Tax | 79.3 |
| Formula Grant (funding from Government) | 73.6 |
| Total Budget | 152.9 |

In addition, the Government gave £139.9million to pass directly to schools this year. This money cannot be used for other purposes.

The council works hard to improve its efficiency and effectiveness. For the 2007/08 budget, £6.3million of efficiency savings were found which were used to help keep Council Tax as low as possible.

How our council tax compares with other areas

Every year around 90,000 homes in Milton Keynes pay Council Tax. Last year the Council Tax increase for the services provided by Milton Keynes Council was 3.6%. Council Tax rose by 4.03% in total. The rest of the increase came from the Police, Fire Authority and Parish councils, as we collect the taxes they set as part of your bill.

This year, the total average Council Tax for Milton Keynes remained lower than most surrounding areas and the national average. This is shown in the table opposite:

Council Tax paid for an average (band D) property in 2007/08

| Local Authority | Council Tax (£) |
|---|---|
| South Beds | 1,526.67 |
| Mid Beds | 1,445.53 |
| Bedford | 1,446.01 |
| Chiltern | 1,358.89 |
| Aylesbury Vale | 1,345.92 |
| South Bucks | 1,341.13 |
| Wycombe | 1,320.06 |
| South Northants | 1,287.10 |
| Milton Keynes | 1,261.00 |
| Wellingborough | 1,227.16 |
| National Average | 1,321.27 |

What you can do

The council is asking residents to tell them what their priorities are for the next financial year, 2008-09, by completing and returning the short questionnaire, no later than 12th NOVEMBER 2007. The questionnaire is also available on the council's website at www.milton-keynes.gov.uk/budget-consultation

For more information on the council's budget please go to the website or contact us on 01908 252696 or email budget@milton-keynes.gov.uk

On-line survey sets out to find our city of culture

WHAT does the word culture mean to the people of Milton Keynes? Where would you go to find culture? Do you care about culture or is it something that other people do?

The Milton Keynes Cultural Alliance is a forum of 22 arts and heritage organisations working together to ensure that every resident has the chance to enjoy quality cultural experiences.

The alliance wants to hear from residents, via an on-line survey, as part of a study into how arts and heritage organisations within the borough can better meet the needs of local residents, as well as how to appeal to visitors from further afield.

The cultural experience might range from being part of an amateur theatre group to visiting a local museum to watching a world clas musical or taking part in an arts and crafts programme.

Whatever it is the group wants to hear from you.

Paquita Lamacraft, cultural strategy manager at Milton Keynes Council, said: "The culture questionnaire is a great opportunity for the people of Milton Keynes to get their voices heard and improve the cultural offer of the city. By completing a questionnaire you'll be having a direct input into creating a lasting cultural legacy for your community."

Completing the on-line survey takes approximately ten minutes and it can be found at: www.culturemk.org or www.mk-arts.co.uk

The deadline for completed questionnaires is October 29 and there is a prize draw for a variety of tickets into cultural events across the city available to all entrants.

Win a six week's supply of Danone's new yoghurt

MK NEWS has teamed up with Essensis to offer one lucky reader a six week supply of Essensis beauty yoghurt as well as beauty goodie bag.

Danone, the world's number one in fresh dairy products, has launched a major innovation – a revolutionary product called Essensis that has been designed especially to nourish skin from within with a measured improvement in skin function from just six weeks.

We know that what we eat has a major impact on our skin's health, and most of us know how to care for our skin from the outside, but how many of us know that 90% of our skin is on the inside and needs to be nourished from within?

So what is this revolutionary product? Essensis is a delicious dairy product containing ProNutris – a unique and exclusive combination of active ingredients specially chosen by Danone scientists for their skin enhancing properties.

This action supports the barrier function of the skin, nourishing it from within so it feels healthier and glowing all over.

Dr Tony Rawlings, chief editor of the International Journal of Cosmetic Science said: "Essensis is a revolutionary product. I was absolutely amazed. In fact, the results were even more interesting because they were comparable to what you get from topical, leading skin creams."

Essensis should be eaten daily, as part of a healthy balanced diet, and can be consumed during any part of the day. It is a great complement to skin creams which act locally from the external surface so why not make Essensis part of your everyday beauty regime and give your skin the attention it

Essensis is now available in four delicious flavours, including Raspberry & Pomegranate, Black cherry & Blueberry, Peach and Apricot, and Strawberry& Wild Strawberry, from over 180 stores in the Anglia region including: Sainsbury's, Waitrose, Tesco, Asda, Morrison's, Somerfield, and Co-op.

HOW TO ENTER

Simply answer the following question for your chance to eat your way to beautiful skin: What percentage of our skin is on the inside?
Send your answer along with your name, address and telephone number to MKNEWS, 1 Diamond Court, Fox Milne, Milton Keynes, Bucks, MK15 0DU or by e-mail to competitions@mk-news.co.uk.
First out of the hat wins. Editors decision is final.
Closing date October 10.

PHOEBE UNWIN: A SHORT WALK FROM A SHOUT TO A WHISPER

MK Gallery

Until November 4

THIS is the first major exhibition by the British painter.

Unwin's paintings shift between figuration and abstraction.

Throughout her practice, Phoebe Unwin works incessantly in an A3 drawing book, creating a personal register of images and marks. Individual pages are worked up simultaneously creating visual dialogues, some obvious, some obscure as Unwin teases and collages images, shapes and forms from the format of the page and materials at hand in pastel, pencil and acrylic.

This exhibition will be accompanied by an illustrated catalogue with a text by Max Henry.

ALEX FROST: ADULTS

MK Gallery

Until November 4

BRITISH artist Alex Frost works in a variety of media.

This exhibition will present a selection of recent sculptures, drawings and mosaic panels. These reflect Frost's interest in the conflation of modern technology, the serial and the multiple with a distinctive hand-made aesthetic.

His work ranges from the minature to the monumental, from intimate decoration to architectural intervention and locates itself in many differing contexts, the space of the studio, the gallery, wastelands, parks and cultural centres.

Frost's Adults are rock-like sculptures, malformed and enlarged versions of food packaging that are at once sophisticated and clumsy.

MUSIC REVIEWS

BARBIE GIRL
Samanda

The twins from the worst Big Brother series in history singing a duet with Metal Mickey. Yep, that sounds like a winner.

It's come to something when this makes Aqua's original sound like high art, but that's what we've got here.

Words alone can't express just how wretched this single is, but as that's all I've got to play with I'm going to have to at least attempt it.

Maybe the twins really can sing, I don't know, but there's no way to tell on this evidence seeing as everything's been run through computers to filter out even the slightest imperfections – ironic really, given the end result.

The tune, such as it is, sounds so cheap and outdated it could've been come from the 1990s – and I'm referring to this 'performance' of the tune, not the one that came out ten years ago. It's that bad it sounds like the sort of thing a cheap Yamaha keyboard could play if you hit the demonstration button.

And as for the Metal Mickey tribute act who's doing the accompanying vocals, where do I start?

To be perfectly honest, the only time I can see this song being played to its full potential would be during a game of Pass The Parcel with a load of under-fives, but even then the kids would be begging for the music to stop because that means another wrapper comes off the parcel, while the parents would just be begging for the music to stop.

I do believe I may have just stumbled upon the worst single of the year.

ABOUT YOU NOW
Sugarbabes

WHAT the hell's going on with girl groups today? First we had Girls Aloud going down the road marked Completely Mental (how else can you explain Sexy! No No No&?), and now there's the Sugababes Version 3.0 going completely the other way and shoving out something as limp and tepid as this.

I did wonder whether I'd put a Strokes song on by accident, but luckily Amelle has a somewhat different singing voice to Julian Casablancas and that's how I knew I hadn't made a mistake.

Trouble is, if this was a Strokes song (and with the beat and the jangly guitars, it's not a million miles away) it'd have a lot more get up and go about it.

There's hardly any energy being expended here, in fact the phrase 'going through the motions' springs to mind, which is a shame considering this is the same group (if not the same personnel) that released Overload, Freak Like Me and Red Dress.

MOUTHWASH
Kate Nash

WELL, this is annoying. The tune's actually OK – it's quite jaunty and upbeat, actually.

A fair bit heavier than Foundations too, as it happens.

The lyrics, though, the lyrics are, well, they're a bit on the naff side.

The chorus has the line: 'I've got a family and I drink cups of tea', and that line isn't the only offender.

I think they're supposed to sound girl-next-door and down-to-earth, but it doesn't quite work out.

Then there's her style of singing.

Well, Kate Nash sings with a London accent, which normally would be good, but her warbling practically screams 'I'm from London, me' (I still shudder at the way she sang the word 'fitter' as 'fittah' on her previous single). I don't doubt that that's her natural style of singing, but it just doesn't work for me.

'AVIN A LARF

THE COMEDY CLUB
City Limits
Snodome, CMK
Thursday, October 11
MORE great comedy in the city that is bound to get your sides splitting.

First up is Roger Monkhouse, one of the most intellectual comics in the business. His wry observation and witty one liners delivered with his Surrey posh accent.

Next is Brian Higgins, one of that not so rare breed, a mad, hard drinking ginger-haired Scotsman. He is also one of that rarer set – he is funny. A favourite with students, he manages to both ignore and play up to the stereotype to laugh both with and at it,

Lastly is Mike Gunn, one of the most recognisable names and faces in world comedy – both through his deadpan character, but also the fact that he is one of the funniest men going. Voted one of the top 10 stand-ups in Britain, a misspent youth and a series of grim jobs, including one as an undertaker, cultivated his dry as a bone but rib-achingly funny outlook on life.

■ Tickets for the fun are £12, members £10. Doors open 7.15pm, show starts at 8.30pm.
Ticket hotline: 01908 295200 or 01908 295201.

Fancy trying Martial Arts… but feel a little nervous?

Full Contact Karate

Our friendly club offers a safe place to learn, without fear of injury or expectations from other students. The English Karate Association has been established for more than 30 years and is one of the largest and most successful Full Contact styles in the UK.

Still thinking…

- "I don't want to join a class full of black belts and get beaten up!" Classes are tailored for all levels and abilities. We were all beginners once!
- "I'm scared!" You are not expected to break wood, do competitions, punch into buckets of ice or fight a 7 foot giant! (unless you want to)
- "I'm not fit enough!" Most new students are unfit - it gets you fit!
- "Is it suitable for women?" Absolutely! Forget tedious aerobic classes and cheesy music, karate can achieve excellent body tone and fitness whilst learning self defence.
- "I'm too old?" Martial arts has no age limit, it is a lifestyle (and the splits are not compulsory)!
- "I don't have anyone to come with me!" Don't be scared! We want you to enjoy it as much as we do, so you will receive a friendly welcome!

Give it a try, you might like it!

GARDENLIFE

TOO many gardeners shy away from raising fresh fruit because they have heard that pruning, bugs and diseases make it too difficult.

It's true it can be challenging, but it can also be lots of fun and extremely rewarding.

Autumn is a great time to plant, as the plants will get a good start before winter.

Fruit is classified in two ways, top fruit (trees, etc) and bush (raspberries, gooseberries etc).

In this country you can grow apples, pears, cherries, plums, grapes and apricots, and if you have a warm wall, nectarines, peaches and figs.

It's possible to grow a fruit tree in a tiny space on a patio.

If you have a large plot standard fruit trees may grow to 30ft and need a ladder for harvesting, but there are many options in between.

Fruit can be grown on a selection of rootstocks which determine the ultimate size of the tree.

Semi-dwarf trees typically grow to about 12ft to 15ft but still produce an abundance of fruit that is easy to reach.

Dwarf fruit trees rarely exceed 8ft yet yield plenty of fruit. They can be harvested, pruned and sprayed easily without a ladder.

Another great thing about dwarf trees is that you can space them roughly 10ft apart, which means you can create a mini-orchard in a relatively small area.

Most fruit trees need another tree for pollination; this is based on the flowering time of the tree.

It's important that the flowering time of the two trees overlap.

Some apples, cherries and plums are self-fertile and do not need another tree for pollination, but most do.

Your supplier will be able to advise you whether your tree needs another tree to set fruit and which variety would be best.

It is the fruit blossom that will turn into your fruit and late frosts can be devastating.

If you are in a frost-prone area choose a late flowering variety or plant on a slope so that the cold air will fall away.

After the trees flower and begin to form fruit, thin the fruits to 6ins apart to prevent branches from becoming overburdened and breaking.

This is best done when the fruit is very small. Twist it off by hand, or use small pruning shears or scissors.

TASTELIFE

AUBERGINE FINE FOODS

High Street, Woburn Sands
Tel: 01908 582020
Reviewed by MK NEWS team

IN the heart of of Woburn Sands lies a brand new delicatessen that brings together an impressive array of exciting foods.

Whether it's fine cheeses, cured meats, pastries or chocolates you're after, there's no doubt that Aubergine Fine Foods will have something to tickle your tastebuds.

The delicatessan brings together locally sourced products such as vegetables and free range chickens with speciality foods from around the globe, and there's a big emphasis on sourcing ethical foods with recyclable packaging.

John Golding at Aubergine

Woburn Sands residents Jill and John Goulding quit their day jobs to set the up shop.

John gave us a variety of cow's milk cheeses such as Milleens Dotes and Comte, goat's milk cheeses such as Ticklemore and sheep's milk cheeses such as Kelsey Lane and Crockhamdale.

We also tried Montgomery cheddar and Double Gloucester, both of which were fantastic with fresh bread and crackers.

We tried out some Serano ham, Parma ham and a fantastic salami with cheddar, as well as some haddock smoked with beetroot to give it a wonderful purple tint.

Our lunch was rounded off nicely with ammaretto biscuits, white chocolate with cinammon and dark chocolate with chilli.

Some of the foods are fairly pricey, but the extra taste more than makes up for it.

The deli – where you can stop for a coffee on their comfy sofa – even does ranges for people with special dietary requirements.

Sunny outlook for tanning salon with oxygen option

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

Aloha: Factor Me owner Emma Wilson with her staff outside the Bletchley tanning salon

A TANNING salon set up with the help of Business Link is thriving.

Emma Wilson had a well-oiled plan to be one of the best tanning and beauty salons in the city, and since setting it up in July 2006 she already has more than 2,000 clients on her books.

As well as some of the most effective sunbeds around, Mrs Wilson's salon on the Bletchley's Queensway offers an innovative 'oxygen bar'.

Benefits of a sampling the delights of the flavoured oxygen include increasing the melanin in the skin and therefore deepening the tan, and increasing the stamina runners and gym users.

The 37-year-old owner of Factor Me said: "We provide all the latest tanning and beauty treatments so we can offer a complete service from laser teeth whitening, waxing, manicures, collagenics and even an oxygen bar.

"I hope to attract a further 2500 clients but my plan is to be able to franchise the firm so I need to get this salon running well and offer something out of the ordinary which I believe we are doing."

The firm has seven highly trained members of staff including a beautician and two experts in collagenics and teeth whitening.

In one week in July 2007 the takings equalled the figures for the whole month of July 2006.

Emma attributes some of the firm's success to the free help she has received from her local Business Link.

She said: "I came to Business Link as I didn't know where to start when I was setting up. They helped me to draw up a business plan which was really beneficial.

"I found as the business got going it was very helpful having somebody to turn to for advice and also reassurance that the problems I was encountering were normal for a start-up firm."

One area Emma didn't need help with was money matters as she had worked for financial institutions for 17 years. She worked for Abbey, National and Provincial and Coventry building societies and was a personal banker for Barclays.

She loved dealing with the customers but felt she had no control over what she did and wanted to run her own business.

As Emma suffers from the skin condition psoriasis, she always felt having regular tanning treatments helped. This inspired her to set up her own salon.

Factor Me is a member of The Sunbed Association and provides a range of UV beds, a MysticTan Booth for sunless tanning in a private environment and hand-applied Fake Bake.

Through Business Link Emma received a broadband grant for the firm's website www.factorme.co.uk which has been a huge boost to the company.

The internet now generates around 5% of the salon's income. The e-commerce site is set to grow over the next few years and it gives the opportunity for the firm to provide new tanning products to a wider audience.

Emma said: "Starting up my own business was very stressful but having the backing of Business Link really helped. Now everything is looking very sunny."

City adult learners test new accounts

LEARNERS in Milton Keynes will be some of the first in England to trial the Government's new Adult Learner Accounts.

The move will give people greater control over their learning.

The new accounts mean that students will receive independent advice on training options up-front.

Once they have signed up for a course they will receive an account statement setting out details of the learning, the costs of the learning, and the contribution, if any, they are expected to make.

As they progress through their learning journey, students will receive regular updated statements.

The scheme has been devised by the Learning and Skills Council (LSC), which exists to make England better skilled and more competitive.

The trial to test the accounts has just begun in Milton Keynes and up to 4,000 accounts will be available to help learners over 19 gain full Level 3 qualifications, including National Vocational Qualifications, A levels or BTEC National Diplomas.

Welcoming the new accounts, Bob Walding, area director of LSC Thames Valley, said: "We are moving to a further education and training system driven by employer and learner choices.

"These demand-led Learner Accounts will help to increase the choice of learning available at Level 3 and improve the achievement and satisfaction level of learners.

"With the new national employer training scheme Train to Gain and the development of Learner Accounts we are working towards our ambition to deliver truly world-class skills to help us compete globally with the best in the world."

Learner Accounts will be available through colleges of further education and other providers of high quality education and training who have satisfied the LSC's quality assurance process.

The LSC will be working closely with local colleges and training providers to develop effective and non-bureaucratic systems to support Learner Accounts and widen the choice to learners.

■ For further information on Adult Learner Accounts call 0800 092 0229.

Toil takes back seat as Women and Work party

CITY charity Women and Work held an end of summer party celebration on September 15 to tie in with the city's 40th birthday.

The group embraced the arts and entertainment world with a lively Celidh dance to local band Acchord, a sensational fire juggler, as well as an outstanding magician and one man band.

The charity – which helps women return to work, training or education after a break – got women together to dance the Gay Gordon and to watch magic tricks and fire spinners.

Avril Francome, head of Women and Work, said: "There was fun for all ages, we had five-year-olds to 82-year-olds and everyone had a wonderful time."

The celebration was the end of an exhausting day of fundraising by Abbey employee Chris Wood who did a sponsored run around Willen Lake. The proceeds from the run are to be generously match funded by Abbey.

Proceeds from both events will go towards providing advice, guidance and training services to support women and men back into work or into further or higher education.

New Mazda2 designers set out to appeal to younger drivers

THE all new Mazda2 brings genuine zoom-zoom experience to small cars.

The range of five-door hatchbacks offers customers a three-strong model line-up with a choice of three powertrains and three equipment levels (TS, TS2 and Sport).

Mazda UK's marketing director Mark Cameron said: "The attractively dramatic styling of the new Mazda2 is absolutely in tune with our Zoom-Zoom values and from a styling perspective I'm certain this car has a class-leading sporty appearance.

"It is also a car with real substance, introducing elements with particular appeal to younger buyers.

"Styling is one of the most important factors in the buying decision process in this segment, but consumers are also aware of environmental issues and will appreciate this model's lightweight construction, increased fuel economy and reduced CO2 impact – while delivering an entertaining driving experience coupled with Mazda's renowned Japanese reliability."

Although more compact, the new Mazda2 is still a spacious and practical car that will appeal to existing Mazda2 owners and enable Mazda to expand its customer base well below the segment-average buyer age (45-50 years) and introduce a new generation to the pleasures of Mazda ownership.

Mr Cameron added: "We are focusing on retail sales and the factory in Japan has prioritised our deliveries so that we will have the first 1,000 units destined for the European market coming to the UK in time for the launch period.

"The deliberately simplified nature of the model line-up, a choice of three engines and three equipment levels, in just three models ,is made possible by the exceptional levels of standard equipment and minimal options list.

"This allows us to offer customers a clear and straightforward choice, while also avoiding production and stocking complications.

"We anticipate that 55 per cent of buyers will select the TS2 model, with 25 per cent ordering a Sport and 20 per cent the entry-level TS."

PREVIEWS

BRADFORD CITY
League Two
Saturday, October 6. KO 3pm
stadium:mk

BEFORE last night's game Bradford had lost four of their eight games and had only kept two clean sheets, in comparison the Dons had four back-to-back win and five clean sheets.

In head-to-heads it is honours even, the Dons have won two and Brentford have won two of their previous four meetings.

Drewe Broughton's substitute appearance against Morecambe gives Paul Ince more selection headaches upfront with Leon Knight, Aaron Wilbraham and Jemal Johnson all in good form.

While Bradford could be without Paul Evans after the midfielder picked up an ankle injury in their defeat to Wycombe.

PETERBOROUGH UTD
JP Trophy - Second Round
Tuesday, October 9. KO 7.45pm
stadium:mk

BEFORE the regular season had even started both Darren Ferguson and Paul Ince were tipped to guide their sides to promotion to League One this year.

So far it looks promising for Peterborough and the Dons, however the Johnstone's Paint Trophy will be a welcome distraction from the long league campaign.

While the Dons were given a bye into the second round, Posh were forced to come from behind to beat a tough Nottingham Forest side 3-2.

If the scores are tied at the end of ninety minutes the game will be decided by penalties, there is no extra time.

VIEW FROM THE MOOCAMP

MK Dons Under-18s lost by the odd goal in a five goal thriller against Bristol City.

The Dons side, which included four under-16 players, were hoping to bounce back from their heavy defeat to Charlton last weekend but they suffered a blow when Robert Stambolsiev put City ahead.

Moments into the second half Tristan Plummer doubled their lead before Liam Kelly found the back of the net for the Dons.

City went 3-1 up when Ashley Towler then took advantage of a mistake from the Dons' keeper, but Kelly's right footed shot pulled the scores to 3-2 and had a goal disallowed minutes later, denying the Dons a point.

Academy manager Mike Dove said: "Last week against Charlton we deserved to be on the losing side and I don't think anyone would have argued with that. Saturday was different, we should have taken something from the game without a doubt.

"There was an unquestionable improvement and to think of the young players we had out there is a big bonus. No under-16 group has ever had the exposure to under-18 football this early in the season before and it will be a big help to their development."

KEITH Andrews has been named in the League Two Team of the Week for the fourth time this season.

The Dons skipper set up Lloyd Dyer's screamer against Morecambe and led his side to their fourth successive victory.

LAST NIGHT'S ACTION FROM MANSFIELD

Shrimpers left to rue Twiss misses

BY SIMONE CORGAN
simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

MK Dons topped the table at the weekend following their 1-0 win against Morecambe, but their hosts had the chances to cause an upset.

With the free-scoring Dons coming to town it would have been easy for Morecambe to sit back, defend for their lives and play out a draw, but that is not their style.

The newcomers to the league showed they were willing to play full-on attacking football and could feel hard done by not to have taken something from the game.

In truth the Shrimpers should have taken the lead when Willy Gueret had knocked the ball away, Carl Baker somehow missed an empty goal when he fired wide.

Their lack of cutting edge turned out to be their downfall and the Dons, with confidence building ,were quick to punish Baker for his mistake.

In recent weeks Keith Andrews has been the man to grab the fans' attention with some spectacular shots but this time it was another lively midfielder, Lloyd Dyer, who stole the limelight.

Dyer's lightning breaks down the left flank have caused all sorts of problems for opposing teams this season but it was his spectacular left-footed strike that sent shivers through the Shrimpers as he found the back of the net from 25-yards.

The Shrimpers had a troublesome winger of their own in the form of Michael Twiss – unfortunately for the home side he did not have the same killer touch as Dyer.

Twiss was guilty of some poor finishing and was left to rue to fantastic chances.

He had been a nuisance for the Dons' defence throughout with tricky crosses and several threatening breaks, but he fluffed his chances.

Top fans, top team: Dons supporters celebrate as Dyer fires the winner

First he dragged a shot wide and then sent a dipping effort over the bar when he was one-on-one with the Dons' keeper.

After withstanding some intense pressure in their own half the Dons frustrated the Shrimpers as dominated possession.

Although it would have counted for nothing had Danny Swailes not made a last-minute clearance on the line to keep the points safe.

Just a month ago the Dons' hard work was undone when Rochdale snatched two late goals and all the points, a lesson which had clearly been learnt as Swailes headed away Dave Artell's late chance.

In a game that could have gone either way, Ray Mathias was delighted to get a win: "It was a very tight game, we had lots of chances early on and they had one or two as well," he said.

"It was a good game in terms of both teams creating chances. We were a little bit sloppy in our defending but we'll make sure that doesn't happen again."

With the Dons sat on top of the table, the victory set up a happy return journey, or so they thought – both the supporters' and the players' coaches broke down shortly after they set off for home.

PAUL MITCHELL WRITES FOR YOU

PAUL MITCHELL

FIRST of all, it's good to be back! I think the break is just what I needed and everybody loves a holiday!

While I was away it gave me time to re-focus and it's now back to getting my head down, more hard work and trying to get fit.

I know it's early on in the season and by no means are the staff or players getting carried away, but, I have to say, as a player and a fan it's always nice to open the paper on Sunday and see your team top of the league.

The lads have been flying and long may it continue. Every player is playing his part and there is a fantastic atmosphere around the place at the moment.

I missed the Darlington game but I managed to make it up to Morecambe where, I have to say, I was very surprised by a strong Morecambe outfit who tried to play football the right way. Not many teams will go up there and walk over them this season.

Everyone that has seen us this year will know that we are a much tougher prospect and give nothing away cheaply as the four clear sheets on the bounce show. What's also impressing me are the goals we score. There must have been a few already in the running for goal of the season. Lloyd's on Saturday was a thunderbolt and I would like to see him hit a few more.

My feeling is that the team that is most consistent will win this league and we are definitely putting pressure on the teams around us. The hard work starts now because when you're top everybody wants to knock you down but the lads know this and the manager sets the highest standards.

It's no secret that I write this on Monday afternoon so hopefully when you are reading it we should have won five on the spin.

Saturday's match against Bradford will be tough as we have seen the relegated clubs are strong. At home though, we seem to play our best stuff as the big surface suits our passing style.

Hope to see you all in great spirits on Saturday, I would say showing off my tan but I spent half of the holiday in bed with sun stroke! I'd take wet weather every time!

Chieftains end MK Lightning's unbeaten run

MK Lightning had a mixed weekend as they saw their undefeated run come to an end to Chelmsford Chieftains, but hit back in style to beat Sheffield Scimitars.

The EPL cup clash against Chelmsford was made harder for Lightning as they lost Ales Parez through injury and Toni Alasaarela who returned home for the birth of his son.

Chelmsford started the game in their typical attacking fashion when Rastislav Palov found the back of the net before Euan Forsyth doubled the visitors lead five minutes later.

It was a tough ask for Lightning to get back into the scrappy first period, but Gary Clarke managed to pull a goal back a minute from time.

And a strong second period display helped Lightning take the lead as they grabbed two goals in under a minute from Clarke and Ross Bowers.

Yet it was Chelmsford who finished the game in style, scoring the leveller and the winner in the final period to move up to second place in the group, while Lightning stay top.

On Sunday Lightning put in the performance fans have become accustom to as they beat an in-form Sheffield side.

After a goalless first period, Grant McPherson and Adam Radmall both got their names on the score sheet as Lightning opened up a well deserved lead and the defence worked well to keep Sheffield out of the game.

Parez started the third period in similar fashion as he added Lightning's third a minute after the restart, although Robert Dowd managed to grab a goal back for Sheffield but Clarke put the game beyond doubt when he sealed the 4-1 win.

■ Lightning host Guildford in the EPL cup this Saturday, face-off 7pm, before they travel to Peterborough on Sunday in the league, face-off 5.30pm.

MK Lions 94
(Williams 21, Brown 19, Heizer 15)

Worcester Wolves 90
(Paez 31, Mallon 16, Hallgrimson 12)

MK Lions edged out Worcester Wolves in a stunning game at Bletchley Leisure Centre.

As the teams exchanged scores throughout it was left to the final quarter for the Lions to seal the win and they did so in dramatic style.

With a minute remaining on the clock the Lions were trailing by five points and managed to pull the scores level 33 seconds from the end before Dru Spinks nailed two free-throws to clinch the points.

Lions are second in the British Basketball League with a game in hand.

Worcester took an early 8-14 lead before Yorick Williams got the score rolling for the Lions with a pair of threes and four free-throws that helped build a slender 30-28 advantage at the end of the first quarter.

But the Wolves promptly replied at the start of the second with back-to-back baskets which put the visitors ahead, yet it was a short lived lead as Kevin Griffin hit a triple and Peter Heizer scored two free-throws to tie the game 49 each at the half time buzzer.

In the third quarter the Lions threw away the chance to extend a lead by missing five free-throws before Anthony Paez triggered an impressive 11-0 burst for the Wolves.

New boy Williams continued his impressive start to the season as he plugged away to bring the sides back on level terms but Wolves' Michael Gayle had the final say of the quarter when he hit a trio of threes to take the scores to 75-80 in favour of the visitors to set up an exciting finale.

The scores remained close until Robert Youngblood entered the fray to inspire his side to add late points as the Wolves committed needless fouls which resulted in Spinks netting the winner.

MOTOR RACING

Webber shunted out but Coulthard hits points

MARK Webber was sick as a parrot at the Japanese Grand Prix and that was before Sebastian Vettel ended his high-flying race.

The Aussie saw his chances of claiming a career best second place fall apart when Vettel, driving for Red Bull's sister team Toro Rosso, smashed into the back of him during a safety car period.

Despite suffering a bout of food poisoning and even vomiting in his helmet during the race Webber had a magnificent spell behind the wheel, in treacherous conditions, to sit just behind Lewis Hamilton until Vettel stopped his race 45 laps in.

A furious Webber blasted Vettel for the mistake, he said: "That was a completely disastrous finish. We were in very, very good shape to challenge Lewis for first today. We were strong and I didn't make any mistakes despite the tricky conditions.

"I would have liked to have continued to the end of the race. Vettel was a bit wild during the first safety car period and then did a very good job of hitting me very hard under the second safety car."

There was better news for Red Bull as David Coulthard grabbed fourth place, his best finish of the season, and with it five points to keep the team in fifth place in the constructors championship, just five points behind Williams-Toyota.

In a race which saw several cars spin off and the safety car be deployed on numerous occasions, Coulthard used his vast experience to safely guide his car through the danger and pick up the points.

After the race Coulthard, who wore a special hemet dedicated to the late Colin McRae, said: "That was very, very difficult. It's a crazy thing to be a racing driver – on the one hand you're scared, but on the other, you're having the time of your life because every moment you're right on the edge, even on the straights.

"I'm happy to score points, but obviously I'm sorry for the team to lose what looked like some great points with Mark. "

Stirling effort sees the Dons snatch late winner

Mansfield Town 1 MK Dons 2

BY SIMONE CORGAN
simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

MK Dons maintained their top-of-the-table status but rode their luck in the 2-1 victory over Mansfield Town.

Mickey Boulding's first half header had put the lowly Stags ahead as the Dons, by their standards, looked to be off-colour.

A better second half performance saw Lloyd Dyer and Jude Stirling rescue the points and extend the Dons unbeaten run to five games.

The Dons appeared unsettled from the offset as the Stags, looking to move off the foot of the table, burst out of the blocks and created early chances.

Matthew Hamshaw took advantage of the slow starting Dons when he was teed up at the edge of the box, only to blast wide.

While the Dons looked frail, at first so too did the Stags with their defending, Simon Brown struggled to get rid of a Stirling throw-in and Alex John Baptist was forced to go dangerously near the goal line to clear the ball.

The home side were left feeling deprived when the referee waved away their penalty appeal after Bolding had squeezed passed Sean O'Hanlon, he was caught in a tangle with Danny Swailes and his poorly struck shot was kept out well by Willy Gueret.

A few minutes later Gueret pulled off a stunning save to deny Brown only to watch a cross come back in the box and Bolding gladly nod the ball into the net.

With half an hour on the clock the trailing Dons were still struggling to keep up with the tempo and the Stags had chances to extend their lead further but Stephen Damson smashed the near post instead.

The attractive football the Dons had played of late was disrupted by the Stags and it was their set pieces that increasingly looked like the route back into the match.

Keith Andrews hit two free kicks wide while Stirling's trademark throw seemed to make the Stags panic.

Leon Knight was booked early in the second half for a needless foul, his fifth booking of the season, meaning he will miss Saturday's clash with Bradford.

Defenders Drissa Diallo and Swailes both went close to putting the Dons back on level terms with close range headers.

One of the Dons' better moments of play was ended by a brave save from Carl Muggleton, which resulted in the Stags' keeper being replaced.

Knight had picked up a superb through ball from Stirling to be one on one with Muggleton, but the goalie dived low and collided with the striker to end the attack and his own part in the game.

A plucky goal from Dyer got the Dons back into the game when he pounced on a mix up between replacement keeper Jason White and Baptiste.

Jemal Johnson's cross into the box evaded White and Dyer got the better of Baptiste to bundle the ball over the line despite the defender's desperate efforts to clear the line.

Stirling then put the Dons ahead seven minutes from time with a superb strike after picking up Dyer's cross, although it was the stunning flick on from Johnson that allowed the break down field.

Deep in injury time Gueret saved well from Nathan Arnold's volley to secure all three points.
